Local Groups Ready for Bingo

The calling of numbers and letters for the "bingo" will become a legalized operation in the Quad-Cities Oct. 1 under a new bill, signed into law Thursday by Illinois Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie, legalizing bingo throughout the state for churches, unions, civic and fraternal organizations and other non-profit groups.

One of the first to applaud the new bill was Father Terry Shea of St. Mark's Catholic Church, Venice, who, when asked if games would be played there, commented, "Yes, sir! As soon as possible."

Father Sylvester Micek of St. Mary's Catholic Church, was also enthusiastic, saying, "We're going to have them."

He added that the new law will help the church financially and also will be a boon to other non-profit organizations.

Father Joseph Enright of St. Heart Catholic Church added his church to the list of those planning to conduct games and said that they probably will plan on Monday nights or for twice a month games, according to what the other organizations decide to do.

Spokesmen for St. Joseph's and St. Margaret - Mary Catholic churches were hesitant about plans for bingo games and said they would talk with the members of the church and church groups before making a decision.

Rev. Virgil Mank of St. Elizabeth's Catholic church was the only priest who indicated there were no plans for bingo games at this time.

No Plans Yet
American Legion posts in the area said that the issue will be discussed at its next meeting as did Amvets Post 51 and the Disabled American Veterans Club.

Crash Fatal to Girl, 11

Dorothy Marie Nash, 11-year-old daughter of Mrs. Glenda M. Nash, 929 Iowa St., Madison, died at St. Mary's hospital in East St. Louis, at 11:30 p.m. Friday of injuries suffered in a traffic accident 11 hours earlier.

The child was a passenger in an auto operated by her stepfather, Therald Davis, 47, when the accident occurred on Interstate 70, near Sand Prairie Lane, at 12:20 p.m. Friday.

State police said that Davis' westbound auto was slowing down because of engine trouble when the car was struck from the rear by another vehicle driven by Mrs. Esther Schroeder, 61, of Chicago.

Mrs. Davis, her husband and Mrs. Schroeder sustained injuries and were taken by ambulance to St. Mary's hospital. Mrs. Davis was released after treatment, but Davis was admitted for observation. He is expected to be released today.

A pupil at Harris Grade School in Madison, Dorothy had resided in Madison for three years. She was born in St. Louis. The family previously had lived in Venice.

Beside her mother and stepfather, the child is survived by a sister, Mrs. Gerald (Mary Ann) Jolly of Granite City; a grandfather, Stonewall Nash of California; and step-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Davis of Leadenburg, Mo.

Funeral arrangements are being made by the funeral home of St. Elizabeth Hospital, where she complained of pain in the left rib area and left shoulder. He was treated for several small cuts on the chin and right arm and admitted.

Also admitted at the hospital was a passenger in the best auto, Lawrence Spanberger, 73, of 2334 Winters Drive, who sustained cuts on the left arm and face and complained of chest pains.

Treated and released were Rev. and Mrs. Micek, 22, a passenger. The former struck his head on the windshield and suffered abrasions to the forehead, left elbow and left knee. Mrs. Rev. was treated for abrasions to the left leg.

Two accidents occurred minutes apart at the intersection of St. Clair and Myrtle Avenues about 8 p.m. Friday. Two persons were injured in the second mishap.

Involved in the initial accident, at 8 o'clock, were autos owned by Darrell C. Ridgeway, 19, of 29 Victoria Drive, and Earl Lewis, 61, of 1300 Twenty-seventh St. Neither motorist was hurt.

Congested traffic resulting from the first crash was blamed for the second accident, occurring at 8:10 p.m. Friday, when an auto operated by Gene Joyce, 22, of 2918 Victory Drive, collided with a vehicle driven by Willet Barritt, 19, of 209 Weber St., Venice, at the same intersection.

Barritt, who police said sustained minor injuries, reported poor visibility due to traffic.

Metcalf is Commended
By Postmaster General

Assistant Postmaster Arthur L. "Pete" Metcalf of Granite City has been singled out for praise by Postmaster General Winton M. Blount.

In a letter to Metcalf, a Granite City school board member, past school board president and active member of the Mexican Honorary Commission, Blount related:

"I was pleased to learn recently of your many efforts to improve the lives of the people in your community."

"I understand you have worked especially with young people to provide recreational opportunities, such as clubs, playgrounds and training in sports, and that you have also aided the elderly on many occasions."

"Your strong belief that a community working together produces good citizens is shown in your willingness to serve your community to any capacity, and I would like to commend you on these civic activities, which are an inspiring example to all of us," Blount concluded.

Within the gridiron were long files of comfortable two-story houses, ordered from doorway to rooftop.

The neighborhood bordering Wilson Park contained expensive versions of Colonial, Georgian and Norman-style residences.

Beyond this area there were utilitarian designs but the stark plainness of many structures was relieved by shrubbery and trim lawns.

Owing to Granite City's late hour of origin, houses with grotesque Gothic or effusive Romanesque details were not to be seen.

Of approximately 4,800 dwellings in the city, 1,221 were built between 1905-14, and 1,275 between 1905-24.

The median age of all residences was 23 years.

There were 13 apartment houses, 180 four-family flats, 220 duplex houses, 345 two-family flats and about 4,000 four-family residences.

Many low-income families were to live in Kirkpatrick Homes, a federal housing project completed in the early 1940s.

South of Twentieth Street was an industrial area, a buffer residential section, and the business district.

The last extended on State Street, Grand Avenue and Cleveland Boulevard between Niedringhaus Avenue and Eighteenth Street.

Although sizeable in itself, Niedringhaus was under-sized in relation to the number of inhabitants. This disproportion existed in other communities near St. Louis.

Granite City merchants utilized slogans, prize contests and buy-at-home campaigns.

Granite City contained 470 business buildings, most of them brick, two stories high. Many in the downtown section had pyrotechnical neon signs and slick colored fronts of enameled steel tile.

Nineteenth Street, principal shopping thoroughfare was lined with the usual array of drug stores, beauty parlors, motor and furniture houses, and shops dealing in food, shoes, jewelry, clothing, hardware and household furnishings.

There were two banks and a dozen loan corporations.

The industrial area lay at the southernmost corners of the city and along the eastern borders of Lincoln Place and West Granite.

Light industries included a toy factory, two dairies, two planing mills, a brewery, bottling and about 4,000 four-family residences.

Rock and Roll Revival Booked Thursday at MRF

A Rock and Roll Revival is coming to the Mississippi River Festival at 8:30 p.m. Thursday, and for those who remember the 50's and its popular music, or those who want a change from the acid rock of the 70's, this is it.

More than 30 million-seller his will be performed and the rock and roll star who influenced the Beatles, The Rolling Stones and many others, Chuck Berry, will be there with Jerry Lee Lewis as a special attraction. Other well-known artists in the Rock and Roll world also will perform.

Included will be Bo Diddley, Gary U. S. Bonds and Billy Peak and the Sound Company. The festival site is on the campus of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

The world first heard of Chuck Berry back in 1955 right after he recorded his first release, "Maybellene," which became a hit in short order.

Jerry Lee Lewis came along about the same time with his recording of "Whole Lotta Shakin' Going On." The record sold six million copies and gave Lewis the right to be known as a pioneer in rock music, although he has now shifted his format to country and western.

Bo Diddley, one of the top guitarists in the country, recorded "Hey, Bo Diddley," "Road Runner," "Hush Your Mouth" and numerous others. His talking guitar has been imitated but never duplicated.

Gary U. S. Bonds' hit records have included, "Quarter to Three," "New Orleans," "School Is Out," and "Seven Day Weekend."

Grant Requests Sought on State Transport Bonds

By RAY SERATI
Copley News Service

Springfield — The Office of Mass Transportation is currently working on a set of guidelines through which local governments and mass transportation districts will be able to make applications for grants from the $800 million in bonds approved by the General Assembly.

Of the $800 million, $200 million will go for the development of airports and $600 million will be for the building of supplemental freeways.

Jud Lawrie, assistant chief of the Office of Mass Transportation, said the guidelines and application forms to be used in making the money requests should be ready in August.

However, he indicated that probably none of the money would be allocated until an anticipated court test of the $800 million bond program is concluded in the courts.

Presently the office has received four requests for funds. Two of the requests were made by the financially-sagging Chicago Transit Authority (CTA). Another request was made by the Northwest Suburban Mass Transit District on behalf of the Milwaukee Road, and the other was by the South Suburban Railway Bus Line.

Therefore, up to now, all requests have come from the immediate Chicago area.

Lawrie said, "We are encouraging those groups planning to apply to give us a letter of intent. This way, we will be able to see just how much money will be needed."

When the new Department of Transportation is formed, the Office of Mass Transportation will be absorbed by the new code department agency.

The new department also will absorb the present work being done by the Division of Highways, which currently is in the Public Works and Building Department.

For all practical purposes, the Public Works and Buildings Department will be phased out. Presently, this department is headed by William F. Cellini. It is anticipated that Cellini will head the new department.

Air Conditioner Short Starts $4,500 Fire

Fire, believed to have been caused by a faulty switch box in a central air conditioning unit, caused an estimated $4,500 damage to the home of Lloyd Seymour, 3404 Lydia Lane, Thursday.

Neighbors noticed smoke from the home and called firemen. By the time fire units arrived, flames had broken through the eaves and smoke was pouring from the walls and all windows. Seymour was on vacation at the time and a son, who was 'staying in the house,' was not at home. Shortly after firemen entered, flames broke through the roof of the building, eventually burning a hole 20 feet long and six feet wide in the back of the roof.

Fire also caused some damage to the basement and walls, but only smoke damage was caused to the main floor.

Firemen were on the scene one hour. Shortly after the fire was extinguished, Seymour returned from vacation to find his home damaged.

In Fifteenth Century Italy, a girl who was not married by the time she was fifteen years old was considered a family disgrace—but each girl had to have a substantial dowry before she was eligible for marriage and many attractive young women, whose families had been unable to provide dowries, had failed to find husbands and followed to the hands of an unsavory society.

The problem of dowries became so bothersome that the Italian government established a kind of dowry insurance, whereby a girl's family would determine the value of the future dowry when she was an infant and by paying small annual premiums to the state, she would then be able to present herself—complete with dowry, when the time of marriageable age.

It's a good thing that we don't have to have a gold up Wedding insurance policy today. We get married, but maybe it wouldn't be such a bad idea of that. And it's certainly a good policy to start your Wedding Plans right!—at Hudson's.

It's Ike and Tina Turner at Festival Friday

Ike and Tina Turner take over the spotlight of the Mississippi River Festival at SIU-SW Friday, July 30. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

The husband and wife team met in St. Louis in 1956 when Ike was playing with The Kings of Rhythm. The couple used to play the little clubs on the "chitlin' circuit" in the South, but now is featured in major rock concerts.

The Turners have traveled throughout Europe and appeared on television with Andy Williams and Ed Sullivan, and on the Tonight Show and Pearl Bailey Show.

After Tina joined the group as vocalist from St. Louis, the first break came in 1969 when Ike wrote the song, "Fool in Love." The singer failed to show up for the studio taping, and since Tina was familiar with the lyrics, Ike decided to give her a chance to record the number. The song soon sold more than a million copies.

Rolling Stones Tour
In 1968, when the Ike and Tina Turner Revue toured Europe with the Rolling Stones, their record, "River Deep, Mountain High" became No. 1 on the British charts. Last year, the Turners again toured with the Rolling Stones, this time in the United States, appearing at pop festivals and concerts from coast to coast.

Ike is the son of a minister and was born in Clarksdale, Miss., where he began playing the piano at an early age. Tina was born in Brownsville, Tenn., and later moved to Knoxville, Tenn.

When asked what type of music they're into now, Ike said, "Don't label us. We just sing." The six-week 1971 season is sponsored by Mississippi River Festival, Inc., a not-for-profit Illinois corporation. Concert tickets, ranging in price from $2.50 to $8.50, are served seats and $2 for lawn seating, may be purchased at Missouri and Illinois box offices, including Powell Symphony Hall, 718 N. Grand Blvd., 534-1700; the SIU-SW University Center, Chamber of Commerce, Collinsville; and American National Bank, Granite City.

Tickets also can be purchased at the MRF site on the evening of the concert.

Szell, Barbirolli In Memoriam Concert Set Saturday at MRF

The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Walter Susskind, will pay special tribute to two great conductors in an "In Memoriam" concert at the Mississippi River Festival Saturday at 8:30 p.m. on the campus of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

The orchestra will perform Purcell's Suite for Strings in memory of Sir John Barbirolli and Smetana's Quartet No. 1, "From My Life," in memory of George Szell. Also on the program is Dvorak's popular Symphony No. 9 in E Minor, "From the New World."

Both of the late conductors figured significantly—as mentors and friends—in Maestro Susskind's own life and musical career. After three years as a conducting pupil of Szell, the 19-year-old Susskind accepted his first professional position as Szell's assistant conductor at the Prague Opera.

When Susskind went to England during World War II, Sir John Barbirolli, music director of the Halle Orchestra of Manchester, invited him to take his first appearance as a symphony conductor. Susskind frequently guest-conducted the orchestra in Manchester and on tour from that time until Sir John's death.

The six-week 1971 season is being conducted by Susskind. The Illinois Arts Council is joined this year by the Missouri Arts Council in providing financial support. This is one of the first occasions on which two state arts councils have approved funds for the same regional celebration.

Disaster Aid Check for $277,187 is Turned over to City Clerk Robert Stevens, center, and City Treasurer Paul Rutledge to complete the city's allocation of disaster funds resulting from flood damages in July 1969.

Mayor Partney received the check in a meeting at the Illinois Civil Defense office in Springfield. It brings to $611,687 the total received by the city as its share of money allotted by the U. S. Office of Emergency Preparedness to repair sewers, drainage ditches and other public property damaged by flood waters.

Tests of the oxygen content of waters in the Chain of Rocks canal near the point of discharge of the Granite City sewage treatment plant indicate the plant effluent is not responsible for fish kills proxied by the Environmental Protection Agency, Mayor Donald Partney has informed the agency by letter.

He said the tests followed notice from the EPA that investigation of fish kills in the canal early this month "indicated evidence" that the sewage treatment plant discharge caused gasification and an oxygen depletion that contributed to killing large numbers of fish.

Mayor Partney said the tests were made at various points along the canal and in the plant's effluent and the results sent to R. L. Schlegel, supervisory director of a five-county Economic Opportunity migrant workers council at Kokomo, Ind., has assumed his duties as director of the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission to replace Maurice Harris, who resigned.

Schenk, 35, a native of Chicago, was selected for the post last week by the EOC board of directors. Board President William Tudor said Schenk was chosen from a field of "six or eight" applicants.

Mayor Denies Sewage Plant Pollutes Canal

Lock and Dam 27 to the end of the canal. This low dissolved oxygen content of the water in the canal is responsible for killing the fish.

Schenk suggested the city "strictly enforce the City Sewer Use Ordinance to regulate the nature of wastes discharged to the sewer system."

He added that "the city is held responsible for providing adequate treatment for all waste materials which it accepts for discharge to the sewer system."

Records indicate that adequate treatment is not always provided, due in part to the nature of the waste accepted at the plant.

150,000 Public Service Jobs Being Created

President Nixon has signed into law legislation that will provide more than 150,000 public-service jobs for the unemployed and the underemployed.

In signing the measure, the President asked Congress to act "favorably and with dispatch" in appropriating $1 billion authorized this year for the Emergency Employment Act of 1971.

"America needs more jobs, and it needs them now," the President declared. "This administration is working to meet this need."

The public-service jobs provided by the act will be in such areas as environment, health, education, public safety, crime prevention, prisons, transportation, park maintenance, recreation, rural development and sanitation.

Ald Veterans, Youths President Nixon expressed special pleasure that "our veterans will be favored by the act, and that those with little or no job training, such as unskilled youth, will also have a chance to get jobs through this measure."

Cong. Price Files Bill to End 'Gag Rule'

Legislation to guarantee the right of U. S. Postal Service employees to communicate with members of Congress has been introduced in the House of Representatives by Congressman Melvin Price, (D-East St. Louis).

Cong. Price said the bill, H.R. 9443, was necessitated by the so-called "gag rule" implemented earlier this year by Postmaster General Winton Blount. The gag rule states in part that "it is mandatory that postal employees immediately cease any direct or indirect contacts with Congressional offices on matters involving the Postal Service."

"Enforcement of the gag rule," Price said, "would not only violate a basic constitutional right to which every American is entitled—the right to petition his government—but it also would violate a specific federal law." Cong. Price was speaking of the Lloyd-LaFollette Act passed by Congress in 1912, which states that "The right of postal employees . . . to petition Congress . . . or to furnish information to either House . . . may not be interfered with or denied."

This new bill," says Price, "would make the existing Lloyd-LaFollette Act more than just an affirmation of a right. H.R. 9443 adopts the language of the penalty provision of the Hatch Act and provides that any federal officer or employee who discriminates in any manner against any postal employee for communication with a member of Congress or a congressional committee would be liable for the Hatch Act penalty of a fine of $1,000 and one year imprisonment."

Cong. Price also cited the additional need for this legislation "to assure that Congress has direct access to the information it needs to evaluate the new Postal Service."

Collision Injures One

A collision at the intersection of Nameoki Road and Clark Avenue at 12:10 p.m. Saturday, involved autos operated by Sandra L. Grayson, 18, of 232 Ridgeland, whose eastbound car collided with one driven by John Stone, 24, of 2405 Angela Drive, who was southbound on Nameoki Road. Miss Grayson sustained an injury, the police report stated.

In signing the measure, the President cited two other legislative proposals that would expand employment opportunities:

1. The welfare reform program, whose public-service employment provision would allocate $800 million for public service jobs for 200,000 men and women.

2. The manpower revenue sharing program, which would provide state and local governments with $2 billion for manpower training in the first year. These funds could be used for public-service jobs if the work is "transitional" in character.

MORE ABOUT Stamping Works

ting works, grain elevator and packing house.

Ten manufacturing turned out steel, paint, bricks, oxygen, lead products, household ware and corn products.

Main pillars of local economy were the Stamping Works, American Steel Foundry, Granite City Steel Mill and the Commonwealth Division of General Steel Castings Corp. These four employed more than 6,000 workers.

It produced granite ware, for which Granite City was named, and jappaned, lithographed and galvanized ware.

Among the myriad of pots, pans and other containers manufactured here were such exotic objects as foot baths, coffee biglins, fruit jar fillers and gold miner's pans.

The Stamping Works was one of seven factories operated by Nesco (National Enameling & Stamping Company). Nesco was organized by William F. and Frederick G. Niedringhaus, founders of Granite City.

The Granite City Steel Mill covered 115 acres and employed more than 2,000 workers. Built in 1894 as the rolling mill branch of the stamping works, the plant had been managed by an independent company since 1927.

Its output included slabs, ingots, sheet-bar, in plate, sheet steel, sheared plate, galvanized sheets, electrical sheets, galvanized sheets, tin mill black, porcelain enamel, iron and hot or cold rolled strip.

Laymen were fascinated by the strip mills—ponderous devices that did work formerly done on hand mills by skilled crews composed of a roller, catcher, do-uber, rougher, screw-boy, pair heater and three helpers.

Operated by push buttons, the strips crushed ingots of steel to predetermined thicknesses as easily as a wringer flattens out a towel.

The Granite City branch of the American Steel Foundries, largest of the company's eight plants, had a capacity of 75,000 tons of steel castings.

Most of the output was bolsters and side frames for box cars. Bolsters form the cross piece of the trucks; side frames support the bolsters and connect the ends of the trucks.

The Commonwealth Division of General Steel Castings Corp. also specialized in railroad equipment—pressure body, big one-piece castings. When working at top speed, Commonwealth employed 3,000 persons.

Granite City plants of the National Lead Company and the Union Star & Refining Company respectively employed 275 and 350 workers. The National Lead plant produced oxides, litharge and white lead.

Its local subsidiary, Hoyt Metal Works, manufactured receptacles for these products. The Union Star & Refining plant, better known as the Glucose Works, extracted oils,

Fiscalists' Ideas Are Prevailing

By CARL W. RITTER
Copley News Service

Controversy continues between the monetarists and the fiscalists—or new economists—as to whose policies serve the country best.

Regardless of whose does, it appears now—in the wake of President Nixon's recent declaration in favor of Keynesian ideology—that the main thrust toward solving the nation's economic problems will come from the fiscal side.

If this is so, we can expect a return to the "fine tuning" of 1961 to 1968 in spite of four national episodes indicating monetarists' views are more worthy of support.

Basing their thinking on a framework developed by John Maynard Keynes in the mid-1930s, the fiscalists today assume highly important and predictable private spending decisions stem from federal tax and expenditure policies.

These new economists see the best measure of fiscal impact resulting from changes in tax and expenditure policy as likely to contribute to unstimulating conditions than to beneficial stabilization.

Monetarists support a consistent but moderate monetary stimulation, in line with the longer-term growth demands of the economy. They say this promotes a much healthier situation over the years than the active policy of stimulating based on tenuous estimates of the future.

A growth in money supply ranging from 3 to 6 percent a year is held by monetarists to be generally acceptable.

It is not true, as some Americans believe, that monetarists would ignore the fiscal approach. They merely feel it is not capable of doing a proper job alone.

Dr. Beryl W. Spring, economist for Chicago's giant Harris Trust & Savings Bank, makes a conscious effort to stem the fiscal tide in bringing out a new book, "Money Markets: A Monetarist View" (Dow Jones-Irwin, Inc.).

He employs case histories to uncover what he terms "empirical evidence" suggesting that "monetary change has a larger, more predictable and quicker impact upon the economy than fiscal change and, indeed, showing that fiscal change is not an important factor affecting aggregate demand."

Monetary change, he declares, "has a major effect on aggregate demand which in turn, is related to such variables as gross national product, prices, employment, profits, interest rates and equity prices."

Spring states the average time span between declining monetary growth and weak stock prices has been about nine months, whereas weaker liquidity has preceded a business contraction by 16 months on average.

As to interest rates: "Excessive money creation inevitably creates serious inflation, which results in higher interest rates that adversely influence bond prices and stock prices unless inflation adds commensurately to profits. A tighter monetary policy designed to bring inflation under control also exerts short-run pressure toward even higher interest rates and hence lower asset prices."

The key to monetarist policy, of course, rests with the Federal Reserve System, which, independently of Congress or the president, but tends to reflect administration desires. Lately its monetary policy has reflected expansionism.

Mercer, Boosters Felled In Inter-City Ball Games

Molitor Boosters stopped St. Mary's 4-3 Sunday. It was Madison while Mercer returned home from Highland-Pierson 7-4 in a 10-inning thriller.

"We had Molitor worried as they were held to only six hits by Frank Papa, who struck seven and only allowed one earned run," Booster Manager Jim Greer said.

"It was a real pitchers duel, and both teams made several errors in the fielding plays. It was anybody's game until the ninth."

John Paskus belted a home run to the bottom of the ninth for the Boosters who tagged only three hits in the games.

The other two were by Fred Bathon and Papa.

Molitor now leads the Blue division with a 10-1 record and the Boosters are now 1-10.

Paddlers Win 364-231 In Rain at Dupo Pool

Competing in a cold drizzling rain at the Hilltoppers pool in the Paddlers' 12-year-old relay team gave the local swim team a 29-16 point edge going into the final conference meet Friday evening.

Winning first place ribbons in the four groups were Alice Miller, 19-17; Dave Lindsay, 13-14; and Nancy Byington, 12 years and under.

After the divers placing to add points to the Paddlers score were Scott Mullen and Jan Rose second, and Tommy Becherer, third, 12 years and under; Paula Worthen, second, and Pat Apponey, third, 13-14 years; and Dawn Lamb, second, 15-17.

The "Tournament of Champions," a senior level amateur baseball tournament, will bring together in single elimination play the eight leading teams of four leagues operating in south-western Illinois.

The tentative schedule calls for quarterfinal games Aug. 18 and 19 at parks in O'Fallon and Beekmantown, Ill. The semi-final rounds will be held on Aug. 25 and 26 and the concluding game on Sept. 1.

Locations of the latter games will be based on home survival of the earlier rounds. All games will begin at 8 p.m.

The Carling Co. will furnish trophies for the championship team and runner-up. An individual award will be given to each member of the first-place squad.

Top Area Golfer Hurt In Kentucky Car Crash

Terry Tessary, 4049 Kathy Drive, a well-known area golfer who teaches physical education in the Roxana school system, is recuperating at a Paducah, Ky., hospital from serious injuries sustained July 18 when the car in which he was a passenger overturned several times.

Tessary, 23, suffered a fractured neck vertebrae and is confined in traction in Room 216, at Western Baptist Hospital, Paducah, Ky.

Physicians at the hospital report he will be alright, but he has to rest for about six weeks," according to the golfer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. B. Tessary, 1827 Spring Ave. It is possible he can be transferred to Jewish Hospital, St. Louis, in a week or two, his parents said.

At the time of the accident, Tessary was riding with a Pennsylvania couple from the Paducah airport into the city after forgetting the ignition keys to a plane in which he and three companions traveled to Kentucky from Alton. The motorist and his wife were strangers to the Granite Cityan and a roadside ditch filled with water.

Police said Tessary pulled the driver who was still incapacitated, from the water, and also rescued Mrs. Robert from the overturned vehicle. The local police unit was called to the scene and extricated himself from the auto.

Tessary missed qualifying in the U.S. Open sectional play by four strokes in district competition at the Illinois Country Club in Springfield. His plans to compete in the U.S. Amateur and the Western Open tournaments at the Granite City Country Club, where he is a member of the varsity golf squad in 1965, Tessary played in 1968 and 1969 for the Southern Illinois University-Carbondale campus golf team.

He teaches physical education at Central Grade School in Roxana and also serves as a coach for the Roxana High School golf squad.

Only two dual meets remain in the Paddlers swim team's competitive season. The Southwest Illinois Swimming Association (SWISA) conference championship meet is planned Aug. 14 at Bellefontaine Country Club in St. Louis. The club is the season's finale, Paddlers Coach Jeff Spector announced.

Four Paddlers swimmers participated in the Webster Groves swim meet last week, with Janet Becherer capturing a first-place ribbon in the 50-yard individual medley event and a second-place ribbon in the 50-yard freestyle race. Both events were in the 9-10 age group.

Competing in the same age division, Judy Polach won a fourth-place ribbon in the 50-yard breaststroke and Pam Polach a seventh place in the 50-yard butterfly. Charles Polach placed third in the 8 years and under butterfly event.

"Baltz is a very strong young man and throws extremely hard with control. At 6'5" and 165 pounds and only 18 years old, by the time he's a senior he has all the physical equipment to become truly great," Lee said.

Baltz posted a 7-1 record his senior year, losing to Nashville, Tenn., in the Illinois sectional tournament. The rugged Baltz also plays basketball.

N&W Operations Near Shutdown

Norfolk & Western rail operations were nearing a complete shutdown today as supervisory employees sought to clear freight cars caught enroute when the Union Transportation Union members went on strike at 6 a.m. Saturday.

The strike moved into its third day today with little chance of an immediate settlement, although chances to end the walk-out appeared good yesterday. Federal mediators at Washington reported this morning, however, that there was a "stiffening of opposition" and talks would continue into this afternoon.

A spokesman at the Norfolk & Western office in St. Louis told the Press-Record today that supervisory employees are still clearing tracks, but that another two days would see a complete shutdown if an agreement is not reached. About 400 workers in the Madison and Brooklyn yards are affected.

A prolonged strike will threaten industrial operation, it was indicated today with reports that some employees at the Hazelwood plant might be laid off. The plant is serviced by the N&W.

The UTU also struck the Southern Pacific Railroad where supervisory employees also were reported mulling some trains.

In Chicago, however, the union and the Chicago & North Western Railroad signed a new contract calling for wage increases of 4 1/2% over 42 months.

About 120 high school, post-high school and college wrestlers from the metropolitan area took part in the tournament. Another federation-sponsored event is to be held Saturday, Aug. 14, in St. Louis. All local wrestlers interested in participating may contact Coach Bill "Red" Schmitt at Granite City High School.

Fred P. Prengel, 60, Found Dead at Home

Fred P. Prengel, 60, of 1713 Venice Ave., died at home early yesterday morning. He was found lying on the basement floor by his son, Fred W. Prengel of Madison, about 7:30 a.m. Sunday. An inquest is pending.

Mr. Prengel was pronounced dead at the scene by Madison County Deputy Coroner Raymond Thomas, who was summoned to the dwelling with a police officer. Everything in the house appeared orderly and the preliminary cause of death was attributed to an apparent heart attack, a police report stated.

Employed as a millwright at Granite City Steel Co., since 1950, Mr. Prengel had sustained a fracture of the left leg in an accident at work April 23. His leg still was in a cast and the crutches he had been using were found beside the body.

He was born in Essen, Germany, and had resided in Granite City 45 years. His wife, Mrs. Violet Prengel, died on April 24, 1964.

MORE ABOUT

Village; Pace

chief receives 7 1/2% plus a $500 lump sum salary adjustment and the village patrolman was granted a 6% raise.

Delbert Jerry Young, 2022 Grand Ave., Granite City, was accepted by the board as a new volunteer patrolman.

A possible agreement between the village and Nameoki Township by which the city would rent road repair equipment and operators from the township was disputed with Trustee Fred Reecer commenting the equipment would be available only when not in use by the township and it would be difficult for Pontoon Beach to hire full-time workers who would be willing to work at odd hours.

In a statement following the village board meeting, Albert Bell, Nameoki township highway commissioner, attributed opposition to the road pact by some village trustees as "politics" and said he did not believe the village can obtain the use of road equipment at prices below those offered the village by the township.

"We (the township) offered the village a truck and an operator at $6 an hour, a grader and operator at $10 an hour and a tractor and operator at $6 an hour," Bell said. Additional labor and material is to be furnished by the village.

"The village has been paying $8.50 an hour for the use of a truck. I wonder what a grader and other equipment would cost elsewhere. Naturally there is some opposition against me as highway commissioner since I defeated Reecer in the past election."

"I met with Reecer and we talked the streets. I suggested flagmen be used on the city streets and that men would be needed to take down and replace mailboxes, but this was only a suggestion. I have no authority to hire men except in the township highway department. I can do only the work approved by Reecer."

"Nameoki township is not in the business of making money. The days of the old political bosses have gone. Today we must consider what is to the best advantage of the taxpayers, and that is the reason we offered use of township equipment to the village at cost," Bell continued.

"Ever since we first offered to assist the village with its road work, some trustees have publicly criticized the offer. Pontoon Beach is in Nameoki township and the people there helped elect me. I would like to see them have the advantage of the township's help."

An $11,500 contract for spreading and rolling liquid asphalt and seal coat aggregate on the village streets was granted to Midwest Blacktop Co., the sole bidder on the work.

eral developments including a dance school which is being constructed at the home of Mrs. Margie Salem, 3836 John Glenn Drive.

Opponents argued that the dance studio was in a neighborhood residential, but a study of the ordinance led to questions as to whether the construction is permissible.

A meeting was called for today to clarify portions of the zoning ordinance and to make modifications if necessary.

It was suggested that the price the village is paying for gasoline is more than the cost of installing a gasoline tank and purchasing gasoline in quantity for the city's use. Staicoff said he would investigate the possibility of the city purchasing its own gasoline tank and would report at the next regular meeting Aug. 12.

An ordinance was suggested limiting the weight of trucks which could travel on the village streets to five tons except for delivery vehicles. The village attorney was ordered to prepare such an ordinance for consideration at the Aug. 12 meeting.

Stockholders to Vote Thursday on Merger

A special meeting of Granite City Steel Co. stockholders is set for 2 p.m. Thursday at the general offices of the company, 24th and State Streets, to vote on whether to merge the firm into the National Steel Corp.

The two boards of directors have authorized the merger, and the effective date has been set for mid-August to permit time for the U. S. Justice Department to study the proposal.

Next Sunday is the strike deadline for many steel firms—not those in this region—and some shutdown preparations are being made this week.

A sharp drop in consumer hedge-buying against a possible strike in the United States steel production to its lowest level in four months—11,941,000 tons—the American Iron and Steel Institute reported Friday.

City Receives New $37,000 Fire Truck

A new 1,000-gallon American-LaFrance fire pumper was delivered to Granite City's No. 1 Fire Station Saturday and will be placed in use as soon as it is serviced and checked.

The new truck, which will replace a 750-gallon pumper destroyed in an accident several months ago, was ordered by the city council about a year ago at a cost of $37,000.

At the time the truck was ordered, it was intended as an addition to the city's equipment, but the destruction of the truck in the accident still limits the city to four pumps, one 300-gallon, one 750-gallon and two 1,000-gallon pumps.

GSA Loss 49¢ Per Share in First 6 Months

General Steel Industries, Inc., had net sales of $20,440,000, a net loss of $156,000, or 4 cents per share of common stock, for the three months ended June 30, bringing sales for the first half of 1971 to $34,715,000, and the net loss for the period to $1,243,000, or 49 cents per share, W. Ashley Gray, Jr., president, reported Friday.

GSI, a diversified manufacturing company with six divisions and 20 plants, had net sales of $22,413,000 and net income of $601,000, or 24 cents per share, for the second quarter last year, and net sales of $35,355,000 and net income of $401,000, or 16 cents per share, for the first half.

"While GSI was not expected to show a profit for the first half of 1971," Mr. Gray said, "our outlook for the full year has been changed by adverse developments since the last report to stockholders. St. Louis Car Division encountered serious engineering and manufacturing problems in producing a large order of transit cars and deliveries have been set back to a point where it is not possible for GSI to recoup losses earlier in the year and operate profitably for 1971 as a whole as we had originally planned. When the facts became evident in mid-June, we promptly made a public announcement of the change in our previous projections."

Airport Authority Plans Bid for $85 Million Aid

The East-West Gateway Coordinating Council has been notified that an $85 million federal grant will be sought by the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority as soon as public hearings on a site selection have been completed.

The federal funds would be in addition to $265 million in Illinois money for construction of the $350 million airport on a site between Columbia and Waterloo, Ill.

Arven Saunders, executive director of the airport authority, said the notice to the Gateway Council is "an early warning notice" and is preliminary step only. The council, as the area's centralized planning agency, must decide if the airport fits into regional planning. It has 60 days in which to act.

Saunders pointed out that the airport authority is soliciting comments from interested parties and has given notice of plans for environmental hearings necessary to site selection. The airport authority will file applications for site approval and for federal funds as soon as the hearings are held, he said.

Public Hearing Set

Public hearings are scheduled Aug. 16 in the Waterloo High School, Aug. 17 at the Belle Clair Exposition Hall in Belleville and on Aug. 23 at the SIU-East St. Louis Center.

Saunders pointed out that the $265 million will be provided through issuance of revenue bonds which, because of federal technicalities, must be termed Illinois state funds. Airport user fees, mostly from airlines and concessionaires, will retire the revenue bonds.

Assorted Loot Taken in Central JHS Burglary

A break-in at Central Junior High School, 21st Street and Delmar Avenue, reported at 7 a.m. Friday, netted the thieves a large assortment of maintenance tools and other items, Luther Dowdy, a custodian, informed officers.

Among the items stolen were a wristwatch, radio, quantities of hamburger and fish, screwdrivers, a microphone from the public address system, pipe wrenches, keys and many miscellaneous tools. Estimated value of the missing items was not given.

All Ages Ready to Parade, Wear 1896-Era Styles for Jubilee

ALL DRESSED UP with someplace to go, Mayor Donald Partney addresses the Jubilee Belles while wearing an appropriate hat, tie and vest. Also on stage is Mrs. Emylee Alford, Jubilee women's division chairman.

A DIGNIFIED COMMUNITY LEADER wouldn't put on judicial robes and wear an old-time judge's wig, just to promote sales at the Jubilee "country store," 1930 Edison Ave., would he? Sure, he would, Albert H. Froeming (right), Chamber of Commerce president and Jubilee vice-president, told the Press-

Record. With him at the store are Janice Albers, Miss Granite City and Jubilee Queen, being "arrested" by Jan Langenstein (left), Jaycee manager for the Miss Granite City program, shown in 1896-vintage policemen's garb.

LAW AND ORDER is maintained for Jubilee Celebration Belles. Keystone Cop Hetty Sheppard removes Belle Marge Hall from the ice rink stage for wearing too risqué a bathing suit.

ESCORT FOR LITTLE MISS JUBILEE will be Wally Chaboude, seven, pictured in front of his grandmother, Mrs. Lily Chaboude. With them are Wendy Townzen, six, modeling the Little Miss tiara, and her grandmother, Mrs. Bonnie Lazenby. The identity of the Little Miss Jubilee will be announced during the Jubilee Aug. 21-28.

TIME VAULT? The attire of Mrs. Sandy Innes indicates either a bit of "time traveling" or observance of Granite City's 75th anniversary. She is shown emerging from a local bank vault.

OLD-FASHIONED ATTIRE suitable for Granite City's Diamond Jubilee has blossomed out at many offices and businesses. First Granite City National Bank employees are pictured after donning a variety of styles similar to those which were popular in "the good old days."

JUBILEE BELLE MEMBERSHIP certificates and buttons for employees of the Granite City Steel Credit Union are issued by Mrs. Dolores Allen (left), Jubilee chairman for industrial business girls, as Mrs. Marie Reinhardt signs the charter. Joseph Lucido, manager, displays Diamond Jubilee bumper stickers for his staff.

are Belles Marge Hall, Middy Achor, Ann Konopka, Vinda Law and Eileen Rickert, all playing horns, Valerie Stevens at the piano, Angie Buehler, bass, Cora Barr, drums, and Bernice Johannigmeier, playing a washboard.

Boy Scout Camp Sunnen Earns National Praise

Camp Sunnen has gained national recognition as a leader in the patrol method of camping, according to Charles Covington, of Mount Vernon, Ill., chairman of the Region Seven Canoe Base Committee.

Covington inspected the Boy Scout Camp located near Post, Mo. Thursday in his second trip to the camp. He conducted the official inspection there in 1955 the first year the camp program adopted the patrol method.

The camp passed the inspection Thursday, complying with 118 of 120 items that were checked on the basis of National Boy Scout camp standards. The only two items the camp does not have that the Boy Scout standards require are a full time chaplain and a hunter safety course.

High Caliber Staff
The camp inspector made a particular note of the high caliber of the camp staff, the cleanliness of the entire camp and in particular the Scouts' camping and cooking areas, in addition to what he said he considered an excellent camp program.

Most Boy Scout camps operate a partial patrol system, but use a central dining facility. At Camp Sunnen the Scouts cook all their meals by patrols, taking turns cooking, cleaning up and getting the food from the commissary building.

Camping by patrols is really not new in Scouting; in fact, that is the way it started in the early 1900's under the leadership of men like Lord Baden Powell. Over the years, however, the Boy Scouts drifted into a system of central feeding, with large and expensive dining halls, but the trend is being reversed to complete emphasis on patrol camping since Sunnen set the pace in 1955, according to William Moulton, scout executive.

Accompanying Covington on the inspection tour was Dr. Merrill Outwin, of Edwardsville, council president; Robert B. Clump, of Collinsville, council camping chairman; Ray Gaudette Sr., advisor to the Catholic Lodge Order of the Arrow; Ollie Gilmore, local neighborhood commissioner, and Moulton.

Youth Chased, Freed After Purse Snatching

A 17-year-old Granite City youth was questioned and released without charge after a half-mile chase through a wooded area near the Inn Between Tavern, 5200 Maryville Road, Mitchell, at 6:10 p.m. Thursday, following a robbery in which the purse of Mrs. Lois Wyle, 2538 E. 25th St., was taken.

Mrs. Wyle of the P & S Music Co., 2200 E. 24th St., had just collected money from the juke box at the tavern and was walking through the parking lot when a man ran behind her, pushed her down and grabbed the purse, containing $146 cash, 17 juke boxes and personal papers.

The man fled across Maryville Road, causing the auto of Richard Kowolton, Rural Route One, Box 1322, Granite City, to stop to avoid striking him. Mrs. Wyle called to Kowolton that the man had just taken her purse and the driver and three passengers in his car chased the man through the woods. Aiding in the chase were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tolbert, Rural Route One, Box 1309, Granite City, and their son, Calvin. They reported they chased the man one-half mile before returning to their auto. Sheriff's deputies drove to the side of the woods and stopped a 17-year-old youth coming out of the woods who apparently had been running.

He was released without charge but was arrested again by Granite City police at 2:40 a.m. Friday at 19th and Benton streets and held for authorities. No charges were filed immediately.

Driver Leaves Scene

A hit-and-run motorist struck and damaged the auto of Jack Smith, 3404 Franklin Ave., at 7:45 p.m. Saturday, while the Smith car was parked outside their home, police reported.

Power Mower Stolen

A green power mower, valued at $170, was stolen from a garage at the home of Eddie Propes, 2162 Lynn Ave., the owner told police at 7:20 p.m. Saturday.

River Freight Nearly Doubled in Decade

Commercial shipping on the Mississippi River reached a record 250,831,603 tons during 1970, a 9% gain over the previous record year, 1969.

The figures are in a statistical summary prepared by the Waterborne Commerce Statistics Center, an agency of the Lower Mississippi Valley Division, U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Major General A. P. Rollins, Jr., the division engineer, states that the quarter of a billion tons shipped last year is almost double the 128,347,795 tons reported for 1960.

He notes that shipping along all reaches of the river recorded healthy gains over the previous year as did all river ports with the exception of St. Louis and Natchez, Miss. St. Louis had a fractional drop, while Natchez reported a 3% increase to 489,156 tons.

The 1970 summary also includes the port of Lake Providence, La., for the first time, with shipping of 446,782 tons. New Orleans continues to be the nation's second busiest port with a total of 123,674,208 tons. Despite its slippage, St. Louis remains the busiest non-deepwater port on the Mississippi with 10,442,722 tons. However, the port of Memphis is a close second, leaping 24% to 10,017,785 tons. Vicksburg shows the biggest gain of all river ports, with a 30% increase to 2,036,182 and remains the busiest river port in Mississippi.

Pair Arrested at Bank Charged with Forgery

A man and woman were arrested and charged with forgery at 3:55 p.m. Friday when the pair allegedly attempted to cash a stolen check for $204.80 at the First Granite City National Bank, police reported.

Police said Sharon Ridgeway, 23, of Cahokia, was booked on charges of forgery and her companion, Stephen Crum, 23, of East St. Louis, on one forgery charge.

The couple was arrested at the First National Bank drive-in window when they presented a payroll check drawn on the account of a St. Louis attorney and made payable to an authentic customer of the bank, according to officers.

About 15 minutes earlier, the Ridgeway woman had cashed a check for the same amount, drawn on the same payroll account at American National Bank, police said. The first check also was made payable to an authentic person with an account at the local bank.

All local banks were alerted that the checks had been stolen and were watching, enabling the police to capture the pair, Detective Ira Smith noted.

Tour Spotlights Scenic Beauty of Southern Illinois

Forty years ago this month a small-town newspaper publisher wheeled and cajoled a dozen businessmen into a ramshackle truck and set out to show them some of the beauties of Southern Illinois. He even brought them into bringing blankets and spending two nights under the stars. Women of rural churches served the meals.

So was born the Annual Ozark Tour. This year, the 41st annual version took place, leaving from Harrisburg under the leadership of one of those people who tagged along on the initial venture.

Originator of the Ozark Tour was L. O. Trigg, publisher of the Eldorado Daily Journal. Although he died in 1949, there are a good many people along the highways and byways of Southern Illinois who remember the tall man in the big, black Hudson automobile that poked its nose into nooks and crannies of the hills, rolling over rocks and chug-holes that formerly had known only the steel-shod wheels of wagons.

Other, younger people, are familiar with the name and perhaps have wondered. Why is it engraved on a plaque set in a sandstone boulder near the village of Ozark, northeastern Johnson County where L. O. Trigg was born and where his first newspaper? It was placed there in his memory by a group of his early "tourists."

Trigg Tower and Trail. The tall fire tower at Simpson, in Johnson County, named Trigg Tower by grateful U. S. Forest Service officials for his role in publicizing the beauty spots of the Shawnee National Forest.

Then there is the long-planned Trigg Memorial Trail, marked over existing roadways from Grand Tower on the Mississippi to Butter Rock on the Ohio River. One hundred and five miles in length, it takes the tourist close to many of the beauty spots to which he led his earlier day tourists.

L. O. Trigg's own printing shop kept him supplied with cards which bore the legend, "Salesman of the Ozarks," and as he became engrossed with his self-imposed and completely altruistic task of publicizing the Illinois Ozarks, he turned more and more of the newspaper's attention over to his son, Kenneth.

Born as the Great Depression delivered, his crushing blow across the land, the Ozark Tour had no thought of promoting tourism for profit. In fact, there wasn't a motel or a public golf course to benefit from the tourists' business.

The Tour was designed to acquaint businessmen with the beauties Mother Nature had sprinkled amidst the rolling hills and heretofore seen only by neighboring farmers and venturesome squirrel hunters. As soon as one Tour was finished, Trigg and the Hudson would start pioneering new paths and new sights for the next year.

Old Stone Face. L. O. Trigg spent days trying to get the right lighting for a good picture of the "Old Stone Face," first called to his attention by high school teacher Clarence Bonnell of Harrisburg and which the two men believed was much more realistic than the highly publicized Stone Face in New Hampshire.

In the late '30s, L. O. (he was always known by his initials) wheeled a party of Illinois legislators into visiting the rocky, craggy in northwestern Hardin County.

The visit was instrumental in securing designation of the Garden of the Gods as a recreation area.

The "salesman" did a good job.

Generator Smokes

Granite City firemen responded to an alarm at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 2 a.m. Saturday when an elevator generator short-circuited and started smoking. Firemen remained at the scene 40 minutes until repairs were effected.

Percy Demands Action to Stimulate U.S. Economy

Sen. Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) has called on the Administration to take further steps to stimulate the economy and reduce unemployment.

"I share the growing impatience of the American people that methods for controlling inflation and generating jobs are not being found fast enough," Percy said.

Speaking on the floor of the Senate, Percy said: "I support every effort of the President and the Administration to make the restoration of confidence its major goal of economic policy. But there is more the Administration can do, I believe, to convince the American people that positive programs now in effect are turning our massive economy around and heading it in the right direction. And there also is more the Administration can do to mobilize the powers of the Federal Government in an effective fight against inflation and unemployment."

Percy cited a recent Conference Board survey which indicated consumer buying intentions have begun to wane after rising in the first months of 1971.

"Coming on the heels of staistics which indicate that inflation continues to be a major problem, this news of consumer attitudes must be taken seriously," he said.

"Econometric studies have shown that a significant rise in consumer confidence could alone create more jobs and set in motion more production than tax reductions or public works projects combined," Percy said.

Government Must Act

Percy urged the President to demonstrate to the American people in every possible way that the government will not stand idly by while inflation erodes the dollar and, in effect, undermines our society and the American family.

"I also urge the President," he said, "to declare that the Federal Government will not hesitate to expand the scope and size of the public sector jobs concept if future conditions warrant. And I agree with Arthur Burns that the President ought to establish a wage-price commission which, although it would not have the authority to impose controls, would throw the light of publicity on excessive price or wage increases."

"What is needed at the pres-

Steel Jobs, Hourly Payroll Costs Rise

Domestic steel industry employment costs per hour continued to edge toward the $6 an hour mark, and the total number of persons on steel-maker payrolls rose again in May.

Both figures hit their highest totals of the year during that month. May's total employment costs reached $5.97 per hour, an increase of three cents an hour over April's $5.94.

At the same time, total domestic steel industry employment hit 534,559 persons in May — up from April's total of 531,800 employees.

The average work week for steel wage earners continued to decline. It fell to 38.0 hours for the month—down from April's 38.2 hours.

May wage and salary payments by domestic steelmakers were $477,068,900 compared with $471,529,900 in April.

ent is a substantial, consistent injection of confidence into our economic outlook. I hope to help show how this can be done. I commit myself to working cooperatively to see that it is done."

Emergency Radio Network Major Crime Control Aid

Police officials throughout the state are crediting a new emergency police radio network with improving their efficiency and speed in apprehending lawbreakers, Law Enforcement Director Herbert D. Brown has reported.

Brown said the Illinois State Police Emergency Radio Network (ISPERN), a program of his department, has led to numerous apprehensions which would have been impossible without the car-to-car contact ISPERN provides.

During July, 44 agencies received ISPERN units. One such agency, the Madison police, received five units.

"ISPERN is proving to be of valuable support to the hundreds of local law enforcement agencies in Illinois," Brown said. "At least, the thousands of policemen in our state are being equipped with the tools necessary to do an effective job and to save their lives and the lives of our citizens."

Prior to ISPERN, most police departments operated on different assigned radio frequencies and could communicate only within the boundaries of their jurisdiction, preventing immediate coordination with other law enforcement agencies in emergencies, Brown said.

Since ISPERN was implemented in the spring of 1970, 786 agencies have joined the emergency radio system which ties them to a common high band frequency, Brown said.

every police agency in the state should be tied to ISPERN by the end of 1971.

ISPERN, a program advocated by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie since he was sheriff of Cook County, is the first car-to-car communications system of its kind in the nation. It links police agencies at all levels in Illinois—municipal, county and state.

Through $3.5 million in funding from the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission, the Department of Law Enforcement is able to supply, at no cost to participating agencies, special mobile radio units which make ISPERN operative. Agencies need only assume the cost of installation and repair and the purchase of some inexpensive monitoring equipment.

The ISPERN radios, designed by Motorola, Inc., and easily distinguished by their bright red microphones, remain the property of the state.

Strict guidelines for the use of the ISPERN frequency are set by an 11-man governing board. Participants can use the network only in cases of emergencies such as civil disorders, natural disasters and apprehensions of subjects, Brown said.

State Scholarships to 57,000 Average $691

Dr. Lloyd S. Michael, chairman of the Illinois State Scholarship Commission, has announced that 57,000 students will receive monetary awards totaling $39.4 million for the 1971-72 academic year. These figures represent an increase of 8,000 students over the 49,000 who were assisted with $33.1 million during 1970-71.

Dr. Michael said, "Illinois continues to be a leader among the states in providing undergraduate assistance to financially-needy students."

"In a time of increased costs, these investments for 1971-72 (an increase of 51% over two years ago) represent a positive response to extending educational opportunity."

Tuition Adjustment
The chairman also made it known that Scholarship Commission awards for students attending public senior colleges will be adjusted as required, for any new 1971-72 tuition increases. The Commission also is receiving $2 million for veterans' awards at public community colleges.

Dr. Joseph D. Boyd, executive director of the commission, explained that, even though the level of funding was increased to $39.4 million, a record volume of 100,000 applications prevented the commission from announcing all awards to all eligible applicants.

He said the following procedures will be implemented to balance the commitment of awards to the available funds:

1) To the greatest possible extent, the previously announced awards for 1971-72 will be honored.

2) Any 1971-72 needy applicant who also was an applicant a year earlier will be extended an award.

3) All qualified applicants, 22 years of age or under, whose families have been judged to be unable to contribute toward college expenses, also will be extended awards.

Reduce Each 4%
Dr. Boyd further explained that, to realize all of the above purposes and to permit the assistance of 3,000 needy students who otherwise would have been denied awards, it will be necessary to reduce all awards for 1971-72 by 4% of the calculated amount.

In addition, it will be necessary to cease the processing of 9,500 other applications received after April 1, 1971, for which no funds are available.

This procedure will result in each award being reduced, at the most, $48 from that originally planned. The average loss will be $23. Reductions of less than $5 will be ignored.

Notices in Two Weeks
Revised award notices for students are being prepared and are scheduled for mailing within the next two weeks. All previously announced winners and those awaiting an award decision will be informed of their status.

Dr. Boyd said that, since 1958, the ISSC has made 235,000 awards totaling almost $10 million. More than 47% of these awards and dollars have been authorized in the past two years.

The Illinois State Scholarship Commission administers two programs of financial assistance for residents of Illinois. Its monetary award program provides gift assistance for residents attending private or public institutions in Illinois.

The guaranteed loan program provides student loans for residents to attend private or public institutions, including trade and technical schools, hospital schools of nursing, throughout the U.S.

Morton Gould to Conduct St. Louis Symphony Sunday

Morton Gould, one of today's most prolific composer-conductors, will be the guest conductor at the Mississippi River Festival when the St. Louis Symphony performs at 7:30 p.m. Sunday. He will make a return guest conductor's appearance with the symphony on Aug. 7.

The Sunday performance will be at the festival site on the campus of Southern Illinois University-Western.

The program will feature a popular repertoire of selections by Rodgers, Bernstein, Copland and Gershwin. Gould will also conduct two of his own popular compositions, "The American Salute" and "The Latin American Symphonette."

Gould first gained critical attention as a piano prodigy through his ability to improvise on a given theme, and by the age of 21 had conducted and arranged a weekly series of orchestral radio programs.

His major symphonic works have won world-wide recognition through performance and recordings by leading symphony orchestras and conductors. "Spirituels for Orchestra," "Dance Variations," and the "Latin-American Symphonette," which he will conduct for MRP audiences, are among his works that have won wide acceptance and repertory status.

As a conductor and performer he has appeared in the U.S. and abroad with major symphony orchestras. His recordings, both classical and popular, have won him a large audience. His Chicago Symphony recordings for RCA Victor won the Grammy Award-winning "First Symphony" of Charles Ives.

Among his latest commissioned compositions are "Venice," "Vivaldi Gallery," "Tribute Music" for four guitars and orchestra (The Romero), "Soundings" with Robert Shaw and the Atlanta Symphony.

Burglars who entered the Schulze & Burch Biscuit Co., 812 Twenty-fourth St., Thursday night or early Friday morning apparently were hungry for cookies. The only items reported stolen were three dozen cookies of assorted varieties. Entry was gained by breaking the glass in an overhead door.

Area Is Prime Location for Warehousing, Distribution

Forty major metropolitan areas (populations of 250,000 or more) are within 500 miles of St. Louis, making this one of the nation's prime locations for warehousing and distribution.

The Regional Industrial Development Corporation said today in its latest economic report.

The report, "Transportation and Physical Distribution in the Bi-State St. Louis Region," also points out that the combined population of these 40 metropolitan areas is over 40 million persons with a purchasing power of 29% of total U.S. income.

The latest census report puts the population center of the United States at Mascoutah, Ill., 25 miles east of St. Louis, making this area even more important to manufacturers and warehousemen because of easy access to markets, a spokesman said.

This, combined with the fact that this area is a major transportation center—(barge, truck, rail, pipeline and air)—makes the St. Louis bi-state region the center of purchasing power and business activity for the Midwest.

RIDC Executive Vice President D. Reid Ross said.

The report is one of over 75 major economic studies prepared by RIDC to pinpoint potential opportunities to industry in an effort to expand the bi-state area's total economic base.

RIDC serves the Illinois counties of Madison, St. Clair and Monroe and the Missouri counties of St. Louis, Franklin, Jefferson and St. Charles, plus the city of St. Louis.

National Mailing
Ross said the report will be mailed to thousands of firms across the country. It is hoped, said Ross, that the report will induce firms to consider this area when they think of expansion or relocation, particularly warehousing and distribution facilities.

The RIDC report also points out:

1. The states composing the Central Census Region (St. Louis is in the virtual center of this census region) represent a population of nearly 89 million or 49% of the total U.S. population. This census region accounts for a substantial share of all the business activity of the country—i.e., 45% of retail and wholesale trade sales of the U.S.

2. The majority of the metropolitan areas of the central census region are within 500 miles of St. Louis.

3. Some 28,250,000 tons of all types of goods were shipped from St. Louis in 1967 to all areas of the country. This figure does not cover shipments that both originate and terminate in the St. Louis production area. This movement amounts to over eight million tons annually.

4. St. Louis is the second largest trucking center in the nation. More than 100 motor carriers provide service in general commodities to 25,000 cities and towns nationwide. The volume of traffic transports is $5.5 billion pounds of freight a year.

5. St. Louis is one of the largest freight forwarder centers in the nation. The metropolitan area is served by over 20 certified freight forwarders.

2nd Largest Rail Terminal
6. St. Louis is the second largest railroad terminal in the U.S. The area is served by 14 trunkline railroads and five switching lines.

7. Air freight service in St. Louis has been growing faster than the national average. Five trunklines and four local service airlines serving St. Louis furnish service internationally by direct connections with flights to all points.

8. The Mississippi River and its system of waterways comprise a 22,000-mile navigable network through the center of the nation. Freight movement on the inland system from Minneapolis, Minn., to New Orleans, La., totaled over 213 million tons in 1967.

The report also details other available resources vital to a new or expanding industry—labor force, local minerals and raw materials, utilities, financial resources, climate and other factors.

Copies of the report may be obtained by writing: RIDC, Suite 700, 7733 Forsyth Blvd., St. Louis, Mo., or by calling RIDC at (314) 725-0300.

Although we still can't announce a definite date for Grand Opening, we're still working like mad. The shelving is all set up and the workmen promise us that all refrigeration will be running tomorrow.

Even though merchandise has been arriving for almost a month, pricing and stocking began last week so a big job still remains.

However as far as interior decoration, only a few small jobs remain.

We can't guarantee it at this time but if all goes well, there is still a good chance of opening the doors by next Tuesday.

Customizing Home May Not Boost its Value

By JAMES WOODARD
Copy News Service

Last week I received an enthusiastic call from a friend. "Come on over—I want to show you my new 'darkroom' and den. Best investment I ever made!"

I accepted the invitation. The darkroom was a photographer's delight, and the den was attractively embellished with natural wood paneling and built-in stereo components. Both rooms were completed in the area of my friend's home originally designed and used as a double garage.

"It only cost a few thousand, and I'll probably make double its cost when we sell the place. I'm sure it will bring that much more for the extra rooms," he said.

I expressed my admiration for the new rooms. Very nice. What I didn't express was my opinion that from an investment standpoint his reasoning didn't hold water.

Most Want Garage

For every serious prospective buyer who shares his enthusiasm for the newly created rooms, he will probably have ten who will reject the property because it lacks a good old-fashioned garage. And there will be perhaps ten more who won't think enough of the special features to pay the stiff surcharge.

The more you customize your home to your own individual interests and tastes, the higher will be your capital costs and the more limited will be your market of prospective buyers. You may find someone who is just as excited about your remodeling job as you are—but don't count on it.

But that's strictly from an investment point of view. A new custom feature may provide satisfactions to you and your family that more than justify the cash outlay. That's one of the privileges you enjoy as a home owner.

Perilous Answers

Q. Is any portion of an apartment tenant's rent payments tax deductible?

A. No. However, there is a pending bill before Congress that, if passed, would allow tenants to deduct a certain percentage of their rent payments. The percentage would be determined by the proportion of the property's income earmarked for paying the building's mortgage interest and property tax payments. The present system amounts to "tax discrimination" against apartment renters, according to proponents of the bill.

Q. Is the continually rising cost of labor the main reason for increasing prices of homes?

A. It's certainly one of the three primary culprits, along with increasing costs of materials and lands.

Labor Rate Up

The average hourly rate of union building trades workers in cities of over 100,000 population was $8.39 on April 1, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics. This figure is up 7 cents during the first quarter of this year.

The electricians, highest paid building trade workers, received an average wage of $8.24 per hour (including employer payments to specified plans). Of course, the real problem is inflation—a monster that has been pushing up the cost of living for years.

Nameoki to Call Bids For School Signals

A call for bids on installation of traffic signal lights at Maryville and Kretnier schools in Nameoki township will be presented for approval in the regular meeting of the Nameoki town board tonight, according to Louis Whitsell, township supervisor.

Whitsell said township officials hope to complete the project before the new school term opens. The township will finance the lights at a cost estimated at $20,000 each. Kretnier school is located in State Park Place.

Decision to install traffic lights was reached following an accident at Maryville school in which one girl was killed and another injured critically.

Public Given Safe Ride to Moon By Means of Astronauts' Cameras

With Apollo 15 scheduled for launch today, mankind for the fourth time is attempting to enable a pair of astronauts to step on the moon.

We cannot all go along, but we can make the journey vicariously through television, motion and still pictures taken by the space travelers.

As in past manned flights, the U.S. astronauts will carry cameras with them as they trek the lunar surface.

From the start, photography has played an important part. For instance, the Apollo 14 flight brought two photo returns.

One of the astronauts carried a data-acquisition camera on his chest pack—the first time a movie camera has been operated on the moon's surface.

In orbit above Alan Shepard and Edgar Mitchell, command module pilot Stuart Roosa photographed the lunar surface using a topographic camera taking first time a film larger than 70 mm. in size has been used on a manned space mission.

Continued evolution, changing objectives and increasing sophistication have been the hallmarks of manned space photography.

The first manned flights of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration were in Project Mercury in 1961-63. There were four orbital flights, and only 300 photos were taken by the astronauts; the print quality was uneven.

Main object then was for the astronauts and the many specialists on the ground to learn about space flight itself and the associated problems. Photography was almost an afterthought. Nonetheless, much photographic experience was gained by the end of the program.

In 1965, the first flight in the two-man Gemini program began. It was the Gemini astronauts who first perfected such vital maneuvers as rendezvous and docking in space and who conducted the first space walks by the U.S. Photography recorded these activities for engineers and other space technologists.

By the time the Gemini program ended in November 1966, after ten orbital flights, 2,400 photographs had been taken. The quality was still uneven.

Spaceship design left a lot to be desired from the photographic point of view, but there were numerous superb examples of pictures taken during space walks, spacecraft, the interiors of spacecraft and the earth's surface and weather systems.

Before the first manned Apollo flight in October 1968, a vital task for photography had been recognized—mapping the surface of the moon.

The cameras and processing unit aboard the five unmanned flights in the successful Lunar Orbiter program in 1966-67 had sent back 1,600 lunar photographs revealing detail never before seen by the human eye.

The flights of Apollo 8 in December 1968 and Apollo 10 in May 1969 tested spacecraft equipment and maneuvers in lunar orbit and secured the additional photography necessary to make the landing of Apollo 11 possible.

During that flight in July 1969, Astronauts Neil Armstrong and Buzz Aldrin brought back the historic, high-quality photographs of man's first steps on another world.

Three broad areas of activity can be distinguished in space photography: (a) scientific and mapping, (b) engineering and (c) publicity and general purposes.

The first scientific photographic experiments were flown during Mercury and Gemini—recording twilight effects such as the zodiacal light phenomena.

But even with comparatively fast films, long exposures were required—and both the Mercury and Gemini capsules could not be controlled and "pointed" to the precise degree required by such experiments.

Lunar scientific experiments have figured strongly in the Apollo program.

Armstrong and Aldrin of 11, as well as Apollo 12 astronauts "Pete" Conrad and Alan Bean, used a stereo camera with built-in electronic flash to take close-up photos of lunar rocks and soil before removing specimens for analysis.

Engineering objectives have been numerous. A dramatic example was the photography taken of the damaged service module at the end of the flight of Apollo 13 in April 1970.

Movie records made during the rendezvous, docking and landing of spacecraft provide much more information about the behavior of the spacecraft in such "modes."

The cameras used for this purpose are called "data acquisition cameras" by NASA, and not movie cameras.

They are intended primarily to provide data for later study by the technicians and not to yield a pictorial record for publicity purposes.

Finally, publicity and general-purpose photography is also considered. On their return, the astronauts prepare a detailed account of the flight. They are always notified of the support for the manned spacecraft program is needed and that the publicity photography can help achieve such support.

Thus, crews try wherever possible to bring back dramatic and powerful photographs for the public. Frequently they do, although public familiarity with space photography is still a task increasingly difficult.

During Mercury and Gemini days, the astronauts could frequently take photographs which they thought would be of value to experts on earth.

Now, the Apollo astronauts have an extremely detailed photographic program which indicates when, how and at what targets they will use their various cameras.

They still have adequate film for taking the unexpected photographs. But the pressure of work upon them is such that they would have to be test pilot with thousands of hours of flight experience and/or possess a doctorate degree in mathematics, medicine, geology or some other discipline.

Training, constant contact with Mission Control in Houston, and reference to detailed flight programs carried aboard the spacecraft make the picture tasks as easy as humanly possible.

Each of the cameras used on the lunar surface by Shepard and Mitchell carried, in a prominent position, a simple diagram of exposure advice based on sun angle.

Apollo 14 used in lunar orbit and on the lunar surface a greater variety of cameras and films than had ever been the case before. When astronauts Mitchell and Shepard were on the moon's surface, they used two data cameras with 60 mm. lenses, two 16 mm. data-acquisition cameras and one close-up stereo camera, together with various accessories.

For use in the command module were two 70 mm. still cameras, one data-acquisition

High-Caliber Musical Entertainment Being Offered This Summer at the River Festival

An example of the top-grade entertainment being offered several times a week at the Mississippi River Festival at SIL-SW was provided last night by the concert featuring Doc Severinsen.

Some in the audience of 5,800 might have assumed before he strode on stage that he would be competent but unspectacular, with principal focus on relatively light musical offerings. Instead, the television orchestra leader presented immediate and dramatic evidence of rare trumpet artistry.

The personable musician and all-around snappy dresser began with the difficult "First Concerto for Trumpet and Orchestra," teaming effectively with the Big St. Louis Symphony, and then hit the heights with a stirring presentation of "Malaguena" in combination with both the Symphony and his own four-member rhythm group. Next he moved to the conductor's podium—and took his horn with him—to play and lead "A Rhapsody for Now."

His energetic and colorful number of the more melodic popular songs of the past several years.

The second of the evening's three standing ovations prompted an encore. "The Spanish Bullfight Song," with Mr. Severinsen again in the role of soloist and conductor Leonard Skatkin returning to direct the orchestra.

It was an impressive and highly pleasing performance and one that speaks well of the care exercised by the River Festival in scheduling guest artists. Much credit for the 1971 event, the Festival's third annual series, goes to the officers, who include Nicholas P. Veeder, president, C. E. Townsend, secretary, Ernest A. Karandjef, treasurer, Walter Susskind, music director, and Peter Pasternack, executive director. Members of the Festival board include Harold R. Fischer, Randall Robertson and Dr. Albert W. Tritani.

Dr. Tritani, Dr. Robert M. Lay, Dr. Robert S. Hill, Dr. Terry S. Randall and John W. Reese and their wives hosted a mid-season post-concert party, the only such event scheduled during the current Festival season.

The entire musical undertaking has rewarded all who have taken the opportunity to attend and recommended a journey to the MRF tent and lawn to all Quad-Cityans. Our experience has been that they will be entertained far better than they might expect.

This week's attractions include the Mountain and Mylon rock and gospel groups tonight, John Hartford and Earl Scruggs tomorrow evening, a "rock and roll revival" featuring Chuck Berry and Jerry Lee Lewis Thursday night and Ike and Tina Turner Friday night.

'Not-So-Instant Replay' of Quake

By JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service

Urbana—The University of Illinois is going to stage a "not so instant" replay of the Feb. 9 earthquake which killed 65 persons and caused more than $300 million damage in the San Fernando Valley of California next fall, complete with tremors and tumbling buildings.

The U. of I. quake, however, will be limited to a laboratory and the "buildings" will be scale models of structures involved in the disastrous quake.

Mathematical analyses of the quake and its effect on structures are being made by university engineers, under a $122,300 research grant from the National Science Foundation.

Analysis results will be tested with the model structures on the university's earthquake machine, which can be electronically programmed to duplicate the damaging tremors of a given actual event.

Heading the research is Prof. Nathan M. Newmark, head of the university's civil engineering department, with Profs. Mene Sozen and D. A. W. Peck, nold of the civil engineering department. Prof. Hiroyuki Aoyama of the University of Tokyo will come to Illinois in September to take part in the project.

The University of Illinois has been a leader in research on earthquakes and on design of shock-resistant structures, for four decades.

The San Fernando Valley quake struck at 6 a.m., and by 5 p.m. Prof. Sozen was on the site studying damage. Engineers from the U. of I. have made similar studies of major quakes around the world preliminary to mathematical, and laboratory research.

On the earthquake machine, structures are scaled at one inch to a foot, a one-twelfth reduction. To compensate for the loss of mass in scaling the buildings down, the shocks will be made 12 times faster and 12 times harder than the actual earthquake.

JOHN HARTFORD

Tuesday at Festival

Hartford, Scruggs to Perform Folk Concert

John Hartford and Earl Scruggs, two top names in folk music, will appear at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday in a concert at the Mississippi River Festival on the campus of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

Hartford, a banjo player who also plays guitar and fiddle music, may be best remembered as the man who composed and wrote the hit, "Gentle On My Mind".

Earl Scruggs wrote the "Beverly Hillsbillies" theme and music for the award-winning film, "Bonnie and Clyde".

Hartford is a singer-composer who works with a trio including Norman Blake on guitar, Vassar Clement on fiddle and Tui Taylor on dobro. An ex-jockey, Hartford grew up in Missouri.

He was discovered in Nashville by Tom Smothers who brought him to California for an appearance on the Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour. When summer replacements were being sought, Hartford was invited to perform with Glen Campbell.

This led him to a sideman job on the regular Glen Campbell Good Time Hour, where he became a songwriter-in-residence and played banjo and guitar.

Hartford says Earl Scruggs is the man who had the most influence on his banjo style. His first professional playing was in St. Louis County with a man named Doctor Grey, who was at that time the state champion fiddler for Missouri. As a disc-jockey he worked for WHOW in Clinton, Ill., KTGB in Balden, Mo., KFAL in Fulton, Mo., WBBR in East St. Louis and KSTL in St. Louis.

Scruggs is an authority on the five-string banjo. He took it out of the accompaniment-only category and elevated it to a leading melody voice and a prime solo instrument. He is the originator of the three-finger picking technique that bears his name, the "Scruggs Style".

By the time he was six years old, Scruggs was adept with both banjo and guitar.

Besides the music for Bonnie and Clyde and the Beverly Hillsbillies, he is remembered as the author of "Foggy Mountain Breakdown", written in 1948. First recorded by Scruggs in 1960, it won a grammy award 19 years later in Bonnie and Clyde.

The six-week 1971 season is sponsored by Mississippi River Festival, Inc., a not-for-profit Illinois corporation with directors from Missouri and Illinois. The Illinois Arts Council is joined this year by the Missouri Arts Council in providing financial support. This is one of

Urges Early Tax Bill Payments

Early payment of tax bills by Granite City township taxpayers was urged today by City Treasurer Paul Rutledge who pointed out that the city receives a 2% commission fee on all taxes paid during the local collection period. After the books are returned to the county treasurer late next month, all commissions are retained by the county.

Granite Cityans will have through Aug. 13 to pay their 1970 tax bills at Rutledge's office in the city hall.

A total of $1,750,000 in personal and real estate taxes have been paid since opening of the local tax collection period June 28, Rutledge said. The payments are running behind those for the same number of collection days last year.

Granite City taxpayers are charged with payment of $9,621,739 for the 1970 tax year.

Employee Sues Railroad

A suit for a total of $200,000 in three counts has been filed for Earl Cox against the Norfolk & Western Railroad and George Price, a supervisory agent, as a result of a fall from a trailer unit while working for a trucking firm at the railroad's Madison piggyback yards on Sept. 25, 1970.

Boy, 4, Hit by Car Admitted to Hospital

Four-year old Richard Maykopet was injured when he was struck by the auto of Verna M. Kidman, 2016 Faith Ave., in the 2100 block of Edison Avenue at 11 a.m. Thursday, police reported.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Maykopet, 2114 Delmar Ave., ran into the street from between two parked cars and was struck by the northbound auto which had just pulled from a parking space at the side of the street, officers reported.

He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by police where he was treated for abrasions to the right side of his back and a hematoma to the left side of his head. X-rays were taken and he was admitted in good condition.

$50,000 Rail Suit Filed

A suit for $50,000 has been filed for Richard Ahlvers against the Terminal Railroad in Madison County Circuit Court. The complaint alleges that on June 29, 1971, Ahlvers was employed as a switchman in the Madison yards when a TRRA employee sprayed him with a chemical used to destroy weeds, causing him to suffer diverse skin reactions.

Four-Year Study Plan Offered on Water Treatment

A new four-year program in sanitation technology is to be offered this fall at SIU-SW. The sanitation technology program is the only program in the country which offers a bachelor of science degree, George M. Hansberry, director of the program, reports. Hansberry said graduates should be able to design, operate and administer a waste-water treatment plant or deal with similar environmental problems with little or no additional training.

The program will be housed under the department of chemistry in the Science and Technology Division, but the curriculum will be interdisciplinary among the science areas.

Hansberry said 75% of the curriculum is currently offered on the campus. The additional required courses will be taught by members of the faculties of the biological sciences, chemistry, mathematics, and engineering.

Direct Experience
Students also will receive field experience at the modern waste-water treatment plant on the SIU-SW campus and in area municipal plants. They will also take courses in hydraulic design and learn codes pertinent to engineering contracts for construction of suitable treatment plants, Hansberry said.

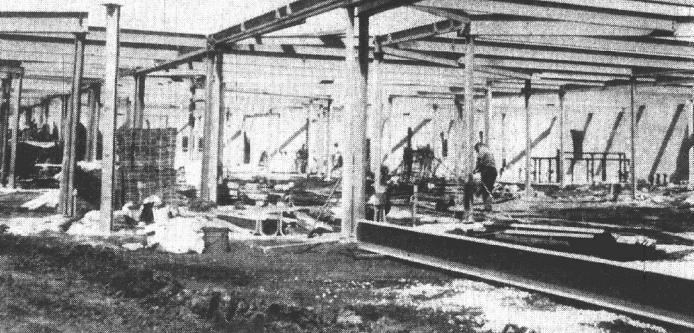

Hansberry, an assistant professor in chemistry, wrote the proposal for inclusion in the SIU-SW curriculum in response to a Congressional report which indicated manpower needs in water pollution control will exceed the supply for the next ten years. The manpower needs for 1972 are 23,000 for technicians and more than 18,000 for plant operators.

The importance of waste-water treatment has been in the background for years until recent concern by citizens about the environment, Hansberry said.

Millions of dollars appropriated by Congress for education in this field—and the large number of applications being received for construction of plants—certainly enhance the profession," according to Hansberry. $112 million in 2 Counties.

In Illinois, the Sanitary Water Board has received 275 applications to construct waste-water treatment plants and received $62 million last year for construction in downstate Illinois. St. Clair and Madison counties are expected to receive approximately $112 million between now and 1980.

lation and upgrade program for waste-water operators which it has operated for several years. More than $21,000 of equipment used in that program also is available for the four-year program.

The two-year program at the Carbondale campus is being phased out. Hansberry is a native of New Orleans and earned a bachelor degree in chemistry and a master degree in inorganic and physical chemistry from Fisk University. He has served as consultant for the National Science Foundation and performed research under an American Cancer Society grant.

Hansberry has served on the faculty of Fisk University, Southern University in Baton Rouge, Virginia University in Richmond and Knoxville College in Tennessee.

Illinois Joins Pact to Aid Department Of Labor in Enforcing Health-Safety Act

Illinois is one of eight states which have signed agreements with the U. S. Department of Labor to help in enforcement of the Federal Occupational Safety and Health Act in four target industries.

The other seven states are: California, Florida, New York, North Carolina, Oregon, Pennsylvania and Washington. The four target industries are: lumber and wood products, roofing and sheet metal, manufacture of mobile homes and other transportation equipment, and meat products.

The states will be reimbursed for their services under provisions of the Williams-Steiger Occupational Safety and Health Act, of 1970. The agreements provide for total payments to the eight states up to $886,320.

Payments for each of the eight states will be up to the following amounts: California, $178,062; Florida, $36,191; Illinois, $84,536; New York, $111,200; North Carolina, $114,016; Oregon, $34,850; Pennsylvania, $151,980; and Washington, $163,650.

Top Priority

The four industries have been given top priority in the "Target Industry Program" of the Labor Department's Occupational Safety and Health Administration, announced earlier.

The fifth member of the target group, longshoring, was not included in the Federal-State agreements because of the existence of a long standing Federal compliance program in that industry.

In announcing the agreements, George C. Guenther, Assistant Secretary of Labor for Occupational Safety and Health, said "the Federal-State agreements demonstrate the enthusiasm of the states for playing a significant role in carrying out this program."

Mr. Guenther pointed out that, under the agreements, the states will provide trained manpower to augment the U. S. Occupational Safety and Health Administration staff.

A total of 72 state compliance officers, acting as agents of the Secretary of Labor, will inspect target industry establishments in the eight states. They will use Federal standards and procedures.

State compliance personnel will be required to complete a five-week training program on Federal standards and compliance procedures before conducting the inspections.

June, 1972, Deadline

Inspections under this program are expected to be completed by June 30, 1972. They will take place in about 4,275 establishments in the eight states. More than a million employees—or more than 75% of those in the four target industries—work in these establishments in the eight states.

Any citations and proposed penalties will be issued by the U. S. Occupational Safety and Health Administration on the basis of the state inspections.

Regional Administrator Edward E. Estkowski, of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, announced the opening of seven field offices to enforce the new federal legislation.

Offices will be located in Chicago, Cleveland, Columbus, Detroit, Indianapolis, Milwaukee and Minneapolis, Estkowski said. Each will be staffed by a field director, safety and health compliance officers and clerical employees. The compliance officers will make the in-plant safety inspections basic to enforcement of the law.

"The area office," said Bernard J. Colleran, Regional Compliance Director, "will be in charge of compliance in that state or part of the state where it will be located. It will be responsible for enforcement of the Occupational Safety and Health Act, and, of course, the Walsh-Healey, Longshoremen and Harbor Workers and Construction Acts in those states or parts of states."

"The area office," he added, "will be responsible for (1) assignment of cases for investigation; (2) citation of violations; (3) assessment of penalties and such other action as is necessary under the Act. The offices also will be responsible for dissemination of OSHA information on inspection procedures to employers."

The OSHA field offices and their Area Directors include:

William E. Funcheon, Room 848, Everett McKinley Dirksen Building, 219 S. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill. 60604 (312-353-4718).

Robert Hanna, c/o WHPCC, Room 825, 741 N. Milwaukee Ave., Milwaukee, Wis. 53202 (414-272-3585).

Room 423, Federal Office Building, 46 E. Ohio St., Indianapolis, Ind. 46204 (317-633-7384).

Park Playground Contest Scheduled Wednesday

Competition between representatives of the Granite City Park District's playground centers will take place Wednesday at Diamond No. 8 in Wilson Park, starting with a "grand march" by contestants at 9 a.m., Mrs. Helen Bergfield, summer recreational supervisor, announced today.

The district's "Junior Olympic Games," which usually conclude the summer playground series, has been changed this year to a daytime contest without the traditional Olympic ceremonies, Mrs. Bergfield explained.

"Because the program format differs somewhat from contests held in previous years, competitive 'Scipmlyo'—which is Olympics spelled backward," the supervisor said.

The public is invited to view the contests. Although Wednesday's games will not be preceded with ceremonies as in past years, including delivery of a facsimile of the "Olympic torch" by a runner and talks by park district officials, the contest events follow the same pattern as previously, Mrs. Bergfield said.

Events will spotlight youngsters in various age groups competing in throwing a ball for distance and accuracy, sack races, three-jump and obstacle course contests and dashes.

A "grand march" by contestants, singing the National Anthem and presentation of awards will be retained in the 1971 "Scipmlyo," the recreational program director noted. Park district staff members will supervise contests and serve as scorers and judges. Coaching staffs from the Granite City school system previously performed this function since the games were initiated in 1962.

To conclude the program Wednesday, the youthful participants will hold a picnic lunch in Wilson Park and go

District Office of Amsted Subsidiary

Diamond Chain Co., an operating unit of Amsted Industries and one of the nation's largest producers of roller chains, sprockets, couplings and gear products, has announced it is opening a district sales office in St. Louis. Amsted owns the American Steel Foundries.

R. F. Curry, a 13-year veteran with Diamond Chain, has been appointed district sales manager of the new office, according to Albo D. Bua, marketing vice-president. Located at 204-A North Clay St., the office will handle sales of Diamond Chain's products in eastern Missouri, all of Illinois with the exception of the Chicago area, southern Indiana and Madisonville, Ky.

These areas previously had been served from the company's Chicago sales office, where Curry was district sales manager.
